Why We Create Dog Show Trophies (And Why They Matter)

In March 2021, my sister Lennah had a request. She was helping organize the American Whippet Club Supported Entry at the Kansas City Cluster, and she wondered: could we make something special for the winners?

We'd been creating beautiful, functional art from wood and resin for only a short period of time, but this felt different. This was personal. This was our world.

We created "I Love My Dog" pens in ribbon colors matching the wins—Best of Breed purple and gold, Best of Opposite red and white, etc. Each pen was unique, handcrafted, and actually useful. Winners could mark catalogs, move dogs up, and carry them daily, to show them off. They weren't going to gather dust in a cabinet.

Dawn's Dog Show Journey

It was 1987 at the St. Joseph, Missouri Kennel Club show, and I was holding the lead of a beautiful Longhaired Dachshund named Razz, showing him for friends who were handlers.. He showed absolutely beautifully for me!

I'd grown up in this world—literally. My parents got involved in purebred dogs in 1972 when I was just two years old. By thirteen, I was breeding and showing Standard Wirehaired Dachshunds. Mom & Dad owned many Siberians over the years, but Ladd was special and we all experienced the joy in 1977 when he was only the third white Siberian Husky and first in 14 years to complete his AKC Championship; he was even in "the" Siberian Husky book for decades.

However this day was all mine though (and Razz's of course) and when the judge pointed at us for the group win, Mom says I was very professional but I don't remember anything until the photos were being taken!

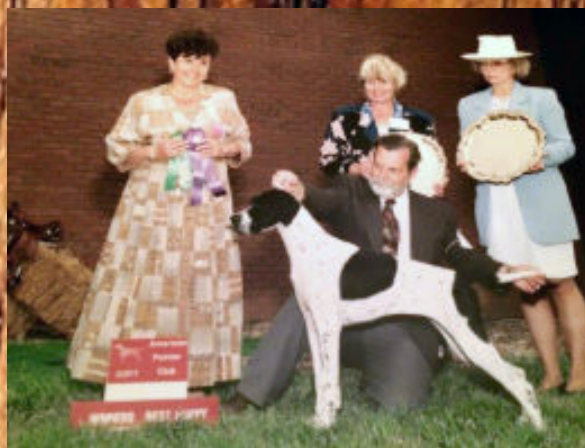

Here's what I learned in all those years: dog shows aren't really about the ribbons. They're about the relationships—with the dogs, with the people, with a community that understands why a perfect gait or a beautiful head can make your heart skip a beat. They're about preserving breeds we love and celebrating the dogs who embody the standard we're all reaching for.

That's the world I come from when we create trophies for your wins. I understand what those moments mean because I've lived them and treasure them. I know someday someone is going to look back and remember because of an image or ribbon or trophy from that special day.
